STREET FESTIVAL

Taste Posavje

Krško, September

Brand Okusi Posavja brings together carefully selected local producers whose dedication creates the authentic flavours of our region. Among them, Posavje's winemakers hold a special place, crafting wines that tell stories of sun-kissed vineyards, rich traditions and modern creativity. Discover them in autumn during Festival Taste Posavje, every first Friday in September in old town Krško. Simply delicious on a plate and in a glass!

PRIMORSKA

Primorska's four wine districts encompass around 6,300 hectares of vineyards, reflecting the meeting of Adriatic warmth, mountain influences and diverse soils. Rebula, Zelen, Pinela, Istrska malvazija and Refošk, together with Kras's signature Teran, define its identity. Styles range from fresh whites and textured skin-contact wines to fine sparkling wines and structured reds.

GORIŠKA BRDA Famous for its terraced vineyards, Brda is characterised by opoka, the distinctive marl and sandstone flysch of these hills. Rebula is the signature white grape, producing everything from fresh, delicate wines to complex, barrel-matured and skin-contact styles. Merlot and Cabernet varieties underpin distinguished reds and blends. Family estates offer tastings, cellar visits, local cuisine and accommodation, making Brda especially rewarding to explore through its producers.

VIPAVSKA DOLINA Mediterranean warmth, cooler mountain air and the powerful burja wind shape the Vipava Valley. Vineyards occupy varied slopes and terraces, where differences in exposure and soil support distinctive wine styles. Zelen and Pinela are its local specialities, complemented by Rebula, Malvazija and expressive white blends. Red varieties such as Merlot and Barbera reveal the valley's warmer side.

KRAS With around 520 hectares of vineyards, Kras is Primorska's smallest and coolest wine district. Limestone, red terra rossa soils and the burja create demanding growing conditions. Teran, made from Refošk grapes, is its emblematic wine, distinguished by deep colour and lively acidity. Vitovska grganja and Malvazija reveal its white-wine character, including textured skin-contact styles.

SLOVENSKA ISTRA Slovenia's warmest wine district encompasses around 1,800 hectares of vineyards, stretching from coastal slopes into inland hills. Istrska malvazija and Refošk define its identity: Malvazija offers fresh and more richly textured whites, while Refošk brings deep colour, vibrant acidity and distinctive fruit. Merlot and Cabernet varieties broaden the selection. Maritime influences, vineyard exposure and winemaking choices produce considerable diversity within this compact Adriatic district.

PODRAVJE

Podravje encompasses Štajerska Slovenija and Prekmurje, where continental conditions favour aromatic whites with freshness and clearly defined varietal character. Šipon, Sauvignon Blanc, Laški rizling and Riesling are central to its identity. Beyond youthful whites, the region offers complex mature wines, a historic sparkling-wine tradition and exceptional sweet wines.

ŠTAJERSKA With just under 5,000 hectares of vineyards, Štajerska Slovenija is Slovenia's largest wine district. From Haloze and Jeruzalem to Svečina, its hills produce expressive whites led by Šipon, internationally known as Furmint, alongside Sauvignon Blanc, Laški rizling, Riesling and Traminer. Diverse vineyard sites yield both vibrant young wines and complex styles suited to ageing. Gornja Radgona has produced sparkling wine since 1852, while Maribor's 450-year-old Žametovka vine remains a living symbol of Slovenian wine heritage. Historic cellars and welcoming family estates make the district particularly rewarding to visit.

PREKMURJE Prekmurje's around 390 hectares of vineyards lie principally in Goričko and around Lendava. Pannonian influences shape aromatic whites and distinctive Modra frankinja, internationally known as Blaufränkisch. This red variety combines fruit, freshness and structure, offering a compelling counterpart to the district's white wines. Small estates, individual vineyard sites and a welcoming wine culture make Slovenia's northeastern corner well worth discovering.

POSAVJE

Slovenia's smallest wine region encompasses just over 2,150 hectares of vineyards across Dolenjska, Bizeljsko-Sremič and Bela krajina. Cviček, Modra frankinja and accomplished sparkling wines define its diverse character. Small family estates preserve local varieties and traditional blends while developing ambitious contemporary wines.

DOLENJSKA Dolenjska is Posavje's largest district, with around 1,260 hectares of vineyards. Its signature Cviček blends red and white varieties into a light, refreshing wine with modest alcohol. Žametna črnina, Modra frankinja, Laški rizling and Kraljevina underpin its vineyard identity. Cool growing conditions also favour increasingly accomplished sparkling wines. Traditional vineyard cottages, known as zidanice, remain a defining feature of these wine-growing hills.

BIZELJSKO-SREMIČ Bizeljsko-Sremič combines traditional local blends with expressive varietal wines and a distinguished sparkling-wine tradition. Modra frankinja is a key red variety, while Laški rizling, Sauvignon Blanc and Chardonnay shape its white-wine offer. The local Rumeni plavec contributes freshness to sparkling wines. Beyond its welcoming estates, the district is known for repnice, remarkable cellars dug into compacted quartz sand, offering visitors a distinctive encounter with local wine culture.

BELA KRAJINA South of the Gorjanci hills, Bela krajina enjoys relatively warm conditions while retaining freshness and aromatic expression in its wines. Modra frankinja and Rumeni muškat are important varieties, while Metliška črnina and Belokranjec preserve its tradition of red and white blends. Sparkling wines add further interest. Family estates around Metlika, Semič and Črnomelj offer an intimate introduction to this distinctive district.
